GOAL

Run the first test described in this guide and record the result for free 3d-modeling apps for children's chromebooks.

SOURCE STATE

New reference guidance; not a recovered test result

EQUIPMENT

- Basic inspection tools
- Service information for the exact model
- Notebook or photo record

METHOD / STEPS

1. Use Tinkercad as a verified free web-based starting option and create accounts through the appropriate parent/classroom process.
2. Begin with a name tag or simple container using a few solid and hole shapes.
3. Teach navigation, alignment, grouping and measuring before introducing complicated meshes.
4. Export a sample STL, check its dimensions in the slicer and print only after an adult reviews thin walls and small parts.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR

A low-memory Chromebook may struggle with complex scenes. Do not assume school accounts permit every website or upload. Keep children's personal information out of public designs.

FIRST TEST / WHAT TO RECORD

The child can explain the model's dimensions and independently make one meaningful design change.

RESULT / WHERE THIS STANDS

The child can explain the model's dimensions and independently make one meaningful design change.

TROUBLESHOOTING

- A low-memory Chromebook may struggle with complex scenes. Do not assume school accounts permit every website or upload. Keep children's personal information out of public designs.

SAFETY / LIMITATIONS

- Use qualified judgment and current manufacturer or code guidance for safety-critical work.
